Description of the Garden Today and into the Near Future

The Children's Garden is under construction. It is being built solely by community donations; your donation counts!

"Tailspin" Kite Plaza: The Children's Garden area is graced by the kite sculpture "Tailspin" by Melissa Ralston. It is surrounded by a patio with seating.

Sunrise Discovery Pavilion: Lowe's donated the labor and materials to build our teaching patio. Soon to be covered by shade sails, this is where we accommodate visiting classes. We hope to offer more field trips as we continue to offer gardening and nature classes for children and families.

Incredible Edibles: Come and discover what grows in Vista that you can eat!

Jeffrey Stein Children's Music Garden: Recently completed, this feature was designed, built and donated by Naomi and Bill Stein. With a variety of children-friendly music instruments, this area is a delight to all who visit it.

Dino Digs: A dinosaur sculpture in a sand pit is seeded with dinosaur toys and digging implements.

Totally Tubular Tunnels: Play area is due to be completed fall 2010.

Butterfly Reflexology Patio: Coming in early 2011. This feature will engage and welcome visitors when they enter the Children's Garden. The patio will be wetted by a small central fountain and visitors may explore the sensations of the patio in their bare feet.

Donations: All of these projects and many more require funding and your donations are needed! Please consider sponsoring a featured element or donating to our Children's Garden Capital Campaign.
